

EASTOVER

Meet Eastover's School Principal: Dr. Susan Nichols

Dr. Susan Nichols joined Eastover Elementary as Principal in July 2014, bringing a passion for education and a commitment to fulfilling the school's mission of serving as a catalyst for student achievement and personal excellence.

Prior to joining Eastover, Dr. Nichols served for seven years in various educational leadership and administrative roles, including assistant principal at Northwest Cabarrus High School in Concord and, beginning in 2012, as a middle school principal in Cabarrus County. She also has a wealth of in-classroom experience having taught Spanish and French for 11 years to a wide range of student age groups in Birmingham, Alabama, Catawba County and locally at Bailey Middle and Butler High schools.

Dr. Nichols earned her bachelor's degree in Spanish education from the University of Alabama at Birmingham and earned her master's degree in school administration from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. In August of 2014, Dr. Nichols finished her dissertation on remedial literacy programs while pursuing a doctorate from Gardner-Webb University.

Dr. Nichols lives with her husband Bryan. They have three daughters, Lexi, Kelsey, and Shelby. When Dr. Nichols isn't working at Eastover, you can find her spending time with family, her mini dachshunds Sadie and Dobby, or traveling.
